

THE UJA-FEDERATION OF NEW YORK SELIM AND RACHEL BENIN SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

SELIM AND RACHEL BENIN SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM GUIDELINES

1. Mr. Albert Benin has established a fund at the United Jewish Appeal-Federation of New York that provides scholarships to exceptional Jewish graduate students with substantial economic need in the physical sciences, engineering, computer science, mathematics, biological sciences or medical fields.
2. Applicants must be Jewish residents of the geographical area now under the jurisdiction of the State of Israel, or Israeli Jewish students temporarily residing within the United States.
3. Applicants must be students at graduate or professional schools located in the United States. Students attending the Sackler School of Medicine are no longer eligible for this scholarship.
4. The scholarships are intended to represent meaningful amounts. A commitment to each student will be limited to one year at a time. Scholarships may be renewed for another year, but students must reapply each year.
5. All scholarship decisions are final.

Hebrew Free Loan Society fosters financial stability and opportunity among lower-income New Yorkers by providing access to safe, affordable credit in the form of interest-free loans. Since 1892, HFLS has provided nearly $380 million to more than 900,000 borrowers.
